

Porterhouse Insights

Porterhouse Insights is a global research, insight, and evidence consultancy, established in 2017 to generate actionable insights to meet evolving client needs.

Our consultancy is part of SCIRIS, a global family of agencies delivering exceptional healthcare communications and consultancy services. SCIRIS connects best-in-class capabilities to achieve success across therapeutic categories and all phases of brand development through offering bespoke programmes in healthcare communications, health economics and outcomes research, creative and brand strategy, medical compliance, and insights.

The Insights team works with healthcare and pharmaceutical clients across R&D, commercial and medical to answer ad hoc research questions with primary and secondary market research studies. The team also works closely with Porterhouse Medical colleagues to embed valuable insights and metrics into powerful communications programmes that make a difference to people's lives.

Porterhouse Pathfinders Insights Internship Programme (12 weeks/flexible duration) – Reading, UK

We are offering a 12-week internship for a bright, enthusiastic life sciences, psychology, business management or marketing science graduate with a passion for science and data. The successful candidate will benefit from the opportunity to experience the workings of a global medical research, insights and evidence agency first-hand. In addition to gaining experience of industry-specific tools and processes while providing general support to our Insights team, the successful candidate will undertake their own project, guided by a member of our team.

Requirements
